

BUGNO ART GALLERY

San Marco 1996/d 30124

GINGER LILY

Decembre10, 2014 - January 10, 2015

Bugno Art Gallery is pleased to announce the new partnership with Fabio Bianco, through his latest series of works titled Ginger Lily. This new cycle of works is formally a natural continuum with the previous artistic production of paintings made for the two sets "The Cakes on My Carpet" and "Fabulous Life" in which the artist, moving as usual within dreamlike and symbolic dimensions, faces and reveals his personal interpretation of a more general state of wonder. The large chandeliers that mark the surface of the interior through a light almost baroque, are the typical suggestions of "loci ameni" and "parterre de borderie", where sumptuous banquets also come to life through majestic gateaux.

The work of Fabio Bianco introduces something new in contemporary art through a unique and recognizable style structured around saturated and indistinct color fields and almost dizzying overlapping levels that play with depth perception. In Bianco's paintings, the bright colors, the bright lights and the perspective deformations contribute to distort, liquefying it, the materiality of the real, now projected into a dreamlike dimension in which the viewer is invited to come to share together with the author, the same state of amazement.

"... In my recent work, in addition to the creation of the environment (produced by the coexistence of fictitious and real elements), I wanted something to happen, without however a precise willing to tell something. What we propose here is in fact a kind of moment of moment certainly identifiable in its factuality but totally indeterminate in its strangeness to a specific context: something like opening a book and reading a story without telling precisely neither the beginning nor the end. I tried to leave, however, with the aid of some lexical signs, a 'didactic' track adoptable by the viewer to draw their own 'story'.

Ginger Lily, which gives its name to this series of works, is the name of a perfume aroma enveloping, magical and exotic that goes well with my moods: his perception was transported on my canvases in the form of color."